Her Father Has Elvina Allocarti
Arrested.

The Brooklyn branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children this morning arraigned Elvina Allocarti, fifteen years old, in Gates Avenue Court on the charge of being a disorderly child. Her father, Anicolal look Allocarti, of Gravesend, says she refused to leave the employment of a family named Fucci, at 248 Patchen avenue, and return home.

Elvina claims that she is over eixelen years old, and that after her mother's death, in 1892, her father did not provide suitably for her. She says she was reuelly maltreated at home, and that she is a fraid of her father. It was learned to-day that after Coney I Island became a part of Brooklyn the police received complaints about dumping that was then being done and stopped it. The work was let rest for awhile and on June 8 a permit to dumping that was issued by the Brooklyn Health Department. This was extended to July I and on July 2 was renewed for one month, During that time complaints have been received and have been received and have been turned over to inspector Purdy, who always reported that there was no mulsance being committed.

Inspector Purdy returned to the Board of Health office this afternoon after having inspected the Coney Island dump. Commissioner Emery was not at the office to receive the report, and will probably not take action on it until to-morrow. We Europy stated to a remorter
